

Radial Nerve Flossing

A)

B)

1. Start seated tall with a neutral spine, back support with a chair can help.
2. Using one hand, place your thumb inside your fist and bring your palm up to the side of your face while your leaning the head away. (picture A)
3. Keeping a neutral neck, lean head to the other side as you open that arm and drop the palm up with thumb in fist behind you (like you are grabbing a baton). (picture B)
4. Only go to where you feel reproduced symptoms in the moving arm as you do not want to push past the pain or stretch.
5. Slowly return head and arm back to start position.
6. Perform 10 reps every 2 hours, or at your doctor's recommendation.

*This motion should not create any pain or stretching type feeling. Only perform the movement until you feel the stretch in any part of the moving side, from neck to fingertips. Do not force yourself into these positions, only start when your body allows you.
